2010 Midwest Honda Challenge Championship Series Schedule

NASA Midwest is pleased to announce that the finishing touches are complete on the 2010 Midwest Honda Challenge Championship Series Schedule. This year's schedule will differ from those in the past in that we will feature four (4) required races which a driver must compete at to be eligible for series championship points with the remainder of the events from both the Great Lakes and Midwest Regions being eligible for series championship points, but not required. The required races are as follows:

April 17-18: Gateway International Raceway (hosted by Midwest Region)
June 12-13: Blackhawk Farms Raceway (hosted by Midwest Region)
August 13-15: Mid Ohio Sports Car Course (hosted by Great Lakes Region)
October 9-10: Putnam Park Road Course (hosted by Great Lakes Region)

The remainder of each region's events will be eligible for championship points, thus allowing each region to crown their own HC Regional champion. Following the season ending event at Putnam Park, the points will be tabulated for the four (4) Midwest Honda Challenge Championship Series events and then have the driver's other points added in from other event(s) which they attended, thus giving a total points for that particular driver. The driver with the most points who competed in all four (4) Midwest Honda Challenge Championship Series events will be crowned the 2010 Midwest Honda Challenge Championship Series Champion for their respective class.

Other eligible events for the Great Lakes Region are as follows:

April 9-11: Mid Ohio Sports Car Course
May 15-16: Putnam Park Road Course
June: TBD
July: 23-25 Mid Ohio Sports Car Course
September 11-12: Autobahn Country Club

Other eligible events for the Midwest Region are as follows:

May 15-16: Putnam Park Road Course
July 17-18: Autobahn Country Club
August 21-22: Gingerman Raceway
September 11-12: Autobahn Country Club

Please be on the lookout for upcoming announcements regarding contingency programs and sponsors, approved tech shops, MWHC gatherings, etc. in the next few weeks.
