Chicago, March 15, 2011, NASA Midwest, Inc.

NASA Midwest is pleased to announce that Jeremy Scott will be our Event Announcer for NASA Great Lakes and Midwest Regions in 2011. Jeremy has been announcing sports car racing events for 3 years, along with hosting "The Inside Groove" radio show and being the track announcer at Autobahn Country Club. You may also have heard him as one of the play-by-play announcers for the 2010 Honda Challenge and Spec Miata Championship races on Versus this past fall.

Jeremy Scott said, "I am very excited to be the announcer for NASA Midwest/Great Lakes this season. Being able to be a part of a touring series is a dream for me, and I have to thank Dave Royce and the entire NASA Midwest/Great Lakes staff for giving me this opportunity, and I can't wait for the first green flag of the season!"

"I am pleased to have Jeremy join us for the 2011 season. His knowledge of the sport and our drivers will certainly add entertainment and excitement to each of our races this year." said Bryan Cohn, Director of Competition, NASA Midwest, Inc.

Dave Royce, Region Director of NASA Midwest, Inc said, "Jeremy has done a solid job with a few NASA projects and were very happy to have him as our announcer for the entire 2011 Great Lakes and Midwest season. Announcing at regional racing events is not common due to high costs and technical challenges at some tracks. However, we hope to break that mold and create an even more exciting place to race and track your car.
